British Coal Strike At Last Comes To An End

COSTLY LABOR WAR, WAGED SINCE APRIL, FINALLY IS SETTLED

GEORGE ANNOUNCES

Men Will Return to Work Immediately, the Premier Declares

UPWARDS OF 1,200,000 HAD BEEN AFFECTED

Estimated That the Coal Strike Cost Britain at Least $2,500,000,000

(International News Service)
LONDON, June 28.—The national coal strike, which had been in effect since April 1, has been settled.

Official announcement to this effect was made following the second conference of the federation of miners, the colliery owners and a representative of the government at the government board of trade office.

Upwards of 1,200,000 men were involved in the strike. It had precipitated the worst industrial crisis in the history of Great Britain.

Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon that an agreement had been reached between the strikers and the colliery owners and that the men would return to work at once.

It is estimated that the coal strike cost Great Britain in wages, loss of production and general business stagnation, at least $2,500,000,000.

CONDUCTOR SHOT AND THEN ROBBED

(International News Service)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28.—Several negro suspects have been arrested and posses are continuing their search of the city this morning in an effort to apprehend the three negroes, who shortly before midnight last night, boarded a Picket Springs one man street car, shot Conductor F. Stevens in the back and robbed him of approximately $25.

Stevens' condition this morning was said to be critical. He is shot through the lung and right arm and is not expected to live.

Federal Vocational Officer Now Here

O. R. Stumpff, federal district placement officer, with headquarters in Birmingham, is expected to come to the Twin Cities tomorrow, and open offices in the Lyons Hotel. Mr. Stumpff's duties consist in seeing and talking with every returned soldier and sailor in the section with a view of placing any so desiring in special training for what ever vocation he is best fitted for. During his present stay he will be in town only until July 3rd. Any who contemplate accepting the opportunities now offered by the government will do well to see Mr. Stumpff without delay.

His records show that he has already placed a number of local boys where they can become proficient in their chosen callings at the expense of the national government. Many who attended the state federation of labor convention held here in May, will recall that Mr. Stumpff, appeared before the convention, with other federal placement officers, and explained the present plans of the government for veterans of the great war.

ICE CREAM SUPPER

The Help Others Bible class of the Central Methodist church will give an ice cream supper on the Y. M. C. A. lawn Wednesday evening the 29th of June, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Every body welcome. Homemade cake and cream for fifteen cents. (Adv. 28-29)

DIRECTORS' MEET TRANSFERRED TO COLUMBIA, WILL TALK GUARANTEE

Gathering of Ball Magnates Will be Held in Tennessee City

RUSSELLVILLE FIGHTS TO KEEP FRANCHISE

Commendable Spirit Shown by Fans of Loop's Smallest City

Directors of the Alabama-Tennessee league, who were scheduled to meet here yesterday to take up the question of placing a guarantee on all games played in the league for the benefit of the visiting squads, was transferred from the Twin Cities to Columbia and is due to be held there sometime Tuesday. The reason for the shift in plans was not made public.

Rumors continued to be prevalent here yesterday that the placing of the guarantee will mean that Russellville must find means of financing her team or dispose of her franchise. In baseball circles it was stated, however, that Russellville fans and officials of the Russellville club are determined to stay in the circuit if it is humanly possible to do so.

The spirit of the Russellville people is commendable. They are sticking behind the management of baseball affairs there in the determined effort to give the hustling little city a berth in the A-T loop, but if Russellville is forced to give the other clubs a guarantee of $100 daily, as has been proposed, it is hard to see how the attendance alone will turn the financial trick.

The Columbia meeting also was expected to take action on the reported desire on the part of some to transfer the games scheduled for the latter part of the week between the Twins and Miners in Russellville to Huntsville.

COTTON MARKET STILL GOING UP

NEW YORK, June 28.—The settlement of the British coal miners strike imparted a firm tone to both Liverpool and local markets at the opening of the cotton market today. First prices here showed net advances of 11 to 19 points and the upturn was attended by support from local traders and Wall street, as well as by purchases of Japanese accounts.

Liverpool sold July, but bought October and January. The chief selling was by the South, mostly late months. Trade continued active after the start and at the end of the first 15 minutes the list was about 21 points net higher.

Reach Agreement on Peace Pact

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A substitute for the Knox-Porter peace resolution was agreed upon today by the Republican conferees. The substitute provides for a declaration that a state of peace exists between the United States and the Central Powers with the repeal of the declaration of war against those countries.

Elimination of the repeal of the declaration of war was in accordance with the provisions of the Porter peace resolution and was a victory for house Republicans.

DESERTED BATTLESHIP NOW "ENEMY" TARGET

New Page of Naval History Written by Airmen of Two Services

WASHINGTON, June 28.—A heavy fog, extending several miles seaward, and permitting visibility for only a short distance, caused a delay in the bombing of the Iowa this afternoon and it was possible that the tests would be postponed until Wednesday.

(International News Service)
ON BOARD U. S. S. HENDERSON
off Lynnhaven Roads, Va., June 28.—A new page was turned in naval history today when army and navy air forces combined to locate and attack the radio-controlled battleship Iowa, which theoretically is steaming toward the coast for an offensive.

For the first time in history a big battleship, unmanned and controlled by radio, is being used as an "enemy" in a war game and for the first time combined army and navy air craft are serving as defensive agencies to repel the enemy attack.

At a late hour the Iowa, located at an unknown point off the coast between Cape Hatteras and Cape Henlopen, steamed shoreward at a maximum speed.

Prohibition Raid in Girard Proves to Be Costly for Water Service Folks

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28.—When William L. Martin, former attorney-general of Alabama, made the now famous raid in Girard which resulted in the confiscation of liquor valued at from five hundred thousand dollars upward, he also put a deep crimp in the treasury of that portion of the Alabama Water Company devoted to Girard, according to the testimony of John B. Weekley of Birmingham, one of the leaders in the operations of this company.

Mr. Weekley gave his testimony before the public service commission Monday afternoon in the hearing of the petitions of the company for permission to charge a greater rate for water and for permission to remove the fire hydrants for which the city of Girard has never paid a penny.

The story of the severe financial loss to the company as a result of the raids was a part of Mr. Weekley's narrative about the company's many financial difficulties at Girard. During 1915, 1916 and 1917 the company obtained an annual revenue of more than six thousand dollars. Then Attorney-General Martin and his agents descended upon the town and closed the many business houses devoted to the sale of liquor and confiscated the stocks. The result was that the demands for water immediately decreased. Investigations showed that this great supply of water was being used in the washing of whisky bottles, according to Mr. Weekley's testimony.

One member of the commission asked Mr. Weekley whether or not those fellows at Girard had been mixing liquor with water as some dairymen are accused of mixing water with their milk. Mr. Weekley didn't think this question demanded a serious answer for him. Anyway, he didn't know and he didn't answer.

The testimony showed that whereas the annual revenue during those three years was about six thousand dollars it has now dropped to less than three thousand dollars. Representatives of the town opposed the petition for an increase but agreed to pay the increase if the company would furnish water in sufficient quantities and could make some arrangement for the purification of the supply.

Mr. Weekley said his estimate, based on his own opinion and nothing else, would be that the improvements the town demands would cost twenty-five thousand dollars.

Still is Hot as Officers Arrive

The week-end was a busy one for officers in North Alabama counties. Officers Howell and Hampton reported the capture of two stills and the arrest of five men Saturday near Madison Station. On Sunday Officers Hardy and Stewart destroyed a still between the river and the Courtland Pike, while on Monday afternoon Officers Howell and Hardy destroyed a still of 120 gallon capacity near Fox Creek in Lawrence county, the officers reported. The still was hot and the mountain dew was running therefrom in copious quantities, it was stated.

Not a bluejacket was aboard the ship when she got underway and no human hand controlled her from the bridge.

But her course and speed were directed entirely by the hand of electricity. The order to flight commanders require that no attack shall be made at an altitude of less than 4,000 feet and each attack shall be made at maximum speed.

The Iowa experiment will be the second of a series of tests conducted jointly by the navy and war departments to test the usefulness of aviation against naval vessels under various conditions and to provide both airmen and naval constructors with data otherwise unobtainable on which to base innovations in the design of aircraft and surface vessels. In the first of the tests, conducted last week, one former German submarine was sent to the bottom by aerial bombs in 16 minutes and two others were sunk by destroyer gunfire.

The Iowa and the battleship Ohio control ship, will be stationed more than 100 miles off the coast between Hatteras and Delaware Cape. At dawn Tuesday, Captain F. L. Chadwick, of the Ohio, broke the seal of an envelope containing secret instructions from the navy department and at "zero hour" the Iowa was headed in the general direction of the mainland. For the purposes of the experiment the Iowa will represent an enemy fleet. The Ohio, exercising complete control over the Iowa by radio, will be about five miles away.

MRS. KABER'S TRIAL ON MURDER CHARGE GOTTEN UNDERWAY

COURTHOUSE, CLEVELAND, O., June 28.—Eva Catherine Kaber, charged with first degree murder, sat today with closed eyes and no trace of emotion as attorneys for the state described her as a woman who had planned and directed the cold blooded slaying of her invalid husband.

Only once she opened eyes during the morning proceedings—that was when attorneys for the state asked the first venireman whether he objected to capital punishment and would send a woman to the electric chair as quickly as a man.

A few feet away from her sat a little man with sad eyes, who watched her constantly. For nearly two years the father of Daniel Kaber had gathered the evidence which weaved a noose around the neck of his daughter-in-law and now he sits in the courtroom, a silent waiting witness.

The right of women to sit as jurors in the trial was upheld today by Judge Bernon. There are five women on the venire.

FREE HAND SOUGHT BY GENERAL DAWES

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Charles G. Dawes, the new director of the budget, went into the cabinet meeting today and told the president and his advisers that if they want a budget operating in the remarkably short space of 30 days, they will have to give him latitude and lots of it. The efficient operation of a budget, will be impossible in 30 days or 30 weeks, Dawes informed them, unless the different department heads are willing to give him what amounts to a free hand in the pruning of estimates and the calculation of expenditures.

He informed the members of his plans and declared candidly that unless the director of the budget is accorded 100 per cent co-operation and assistance the task of getting a budget to working smoothly in the time desired by the President appears will nigh impossible.

TWO HITS IN NINTH SPELL DEFEAT FOR ALBANY-DECATUR IN PEPPLES GAME

Big Jay's Triple and Cooper's Single Prove Undoing of Locals

MINERS COME FROM BEHIND TO COP FIRST

Twins Hopped Off to Two Run Lead, but Unable to Hold It

In a game featured by listlessness rather than fight, despite the low score and the closeness of the contest, the Russellville Miners came from behind yesterday and defeated the Twins 3 to 2. The game was won by the visitors in the ninth when Cochran smashed a long triple down the right field foul line to the fence. Cochran was first up in the inning. The atmosphere cleared somewhat when Davidson lifted an easy fly to Carter and Mott went out Bachelor to first. With two-down, Cooper raised a texas leaguer back of third and Cochran cantered home.

The Twins counted twice in the first and the lead looked good. Spitz started the afternoon by smashing a hit through third. McDuff bunted to Acton and the latter tossed the ball away. Spitz going to third and Mac taking second. On Eak's infield clout, Spitz was caught in a chase off third and finally was run down by Wilson and tagged out. Mac taking third and Eaks going to second. Lowry's error on Clayton McClain's bouncer permitted Mac to score and Eaks to take third.

Carter's single to left scored Eaks. Lauderman lined to Acton and McClain was doubled off second.

Bachelor held the Miners back until the fourth. Lowry led off with a double to center, went to third on Acton's single to the same territory and scored on Cochran's infield out. The visitors tied it up in the fifth. Cooper, who had been and continued to be no end of trouble to the Twins all afternoon, rocked the left-center wall with a blow as a starter and drew up at third, momentarily, but scored when the peg to third got by both Lauderman and Bachelor, who was backing up the bag.

In the sixth Clayton McClain probably got the most unusual two base clout in his baseball career. It went to the pitchers box and while it was a fluke, there was nothing scratchy about it, except that it was a foul ball. Thomas failed to see that feature, however, and so Mac got another hit. Leading off the inning Mac took a vicious swing at the ball and hit under it, sending it skyward. The Miner's infield got mixed on who was

Water Rate Raise Asked in Attalla

(Montgomery Bureau Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28.—The public service commission Monday afternoon took under advisement the petition of the Alabama Water Company for an order making an increase in the rate for water furnished to citizens of Attalla. The company contended that it has been losing money each year at the rate of about five thousand dollars and that some provision must be made for additional revenue.

The city of Attalla resisted the proposal and testimony was submitted to the commission by J. B. Childers, city clerk, and B. O. McGord, attorney for Attalla. The engineer of the public service commission has placed the value of the property of the company at $106,349.19, in which the city of Attalla has an interest which the engineer valued at $41,309.44. He also estimated that it would cost at this time $146,727.89 to construct a plant similar to the one now in operation at Attalla.

RAILROAD CIRCLES BECOME ALARMED AT THE PROSPECT OF A LABOR CRISIS

Only 48,000 of Shop Crafts Vote to Accept the Reduction

NEW TRANSPORTATION TANGLE LOOMING NOW

Financial Condition of Unions Scarcely in Readiness for Strike

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 28.—With the vote of the railway shopmen overwhelmingly opposed to acceptance of a wage reduction, from 85 to 77 cents an hour as ordered by the United States railway labor board, railway circles became alarmed today, that the nation might be confronted with a serious railway crisis within a fortnight.

The shop craft employees voted 48,000 in favor of acceptance of the wage slash, with 385,000 opposed to it. Unofficial reports of the trend of the vote in the four railway brotherhoods indicated that wage cuts amounting generally to 12 per cent and effective July 1, were not popular and that the brotherhood chiefs might be asked to call a strike. It is understood the brotherhood chiefs themselves are against a strike.

The vote of the shopmen actually effected about 600,000 railway workers, or about half of those employed on all railway systems in the country. The result of the shopmen's vote was tabulated by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor.

Financially, it is pointed out, the railway men are scarcely in readiness for a strike. A strike benefit fund of some $20,000,000 has been accumulated during the last three years by the men, but with 1,200,000 men drawing only a weekly benefit of $10 from it, the fund would last only a couple of weeks.

REFORMERS OPEN FIGHT ON FIGHT

(International News Service)

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 28.—The opening gun in the fight of the reformers to block the Dempsey-Carpentier championship was fired here shortly before noon today. Robert Watson, president of the International Reform Bureau accompanied by counsel and five clergymen, sought an order directing Tex Rickard and other promoters of the fight to show cause why an injunction restraining the match should not be issued.

Regular Meeting Machinists Held

The regular bimonthly meeting of the local Machinist's union was held last night in Carman's hall. Much interest developed in the proposed reduction in wages among all the shop crafts. Special reports were read from S. E. Roper, General Chairman of the Louisville and Nashville shop crafts, detailing the progress made to date, with the negotiations with the railroad officials on the new working agreement. In his letter Mr. Roper and his associates promised final reports in a few days.

MEANS TRUE PROGRESS

The record of the intense devotion of the ancients to their cities is one of the bright passages of history. In modern times that spirit of all for one and one for all has not been so marked, though there are many cases on record where the community spirit has been the cause of the building up of great cities. A notable case of the United wills of a community making a city, is that of Atlanta, Ga. With no natural advantages whatsoever, the Georgia town of a few years ago is now the metropolis of the state, and one of the first cities of the new South. Glancing back over the past, it is common knowledge that a Frenchman who lives in Paris, considers himself as much a Parisian as a native of France. Venice and Florence, Italy, were regarded with as much patriotic zeal, as was the country of Italy. In the case of Rome, more interest centered about the eternal city than any other community in the world. All roads led to Rome. Athens, Greece, was perhaps the most civilized city of antiquity. It is recorded, as a custom there, that when ever free citizens of Athens were due sums of money from the city treasury, that invariably, they refused to draw it, but let the entire amounts revert to the city as a common fund, for the defense of Athens from her enemies within or without. There was a great Athenian named Themistocles, who was banished from his beloved city, and had to take refuge with a Persian King. After that king had loaded him with honors and made him rich, for some reason he decided to make war on Athens. When the noble Themistocles, although he had been wrongfully banished by the Athenians, learned that he was expected to aid the Persian monarch against his beloved city, rather than do so put an end to his life.

There may be no good and loyal citizens of these cities, who feel that their efforts are unappreciated, but in case there are such, they should still have the spirit of loyalty to their home towns, just as Themistocles was true to his beloved Athens, even after its citizens had turned their backs on him. To a truly public spirited person, whether man or woman, the slights of "outrageous fortune," and the seeming thoughtlessness and ingratitude so often in evidence, will prove only incidental to the day's work and will discourage only for a short time. So intent should all the citizenship be upon cooperation and upbuilding, and so deep should the devotion be to the best interests of the whole community, that nothing can defeat or turn up aside from following the path way of true progress.

FROLIC SOME MAN

The idea that Charles Evans Hughes, Secretary of State, reads only heavy books was disproved the other day by the librarian of Brown university, who gave a list of books that Secretary Hughes has read.

In his liking for light reading Mr. Hughes is not exceptional among statesmen. Most public men, particularly if their responsibilities are great, turn to non-serious books as a relief. Lloyd George is such a man. Woodrow Wilson is another. Macaulay reveled in trashy stories. Chief Justice Fuller used to read detective stories. Abraham Lincoln's well-known fondness for Artemus Ward has been used by Mr. Drinkwater in his play with great effectiveness. Queen Victoria, charmed with "Alice in Wonderland," wrote to the distinguished author for more books like that, and was astonished to receive a list of abstruse mathematical works. Kant, one of the greatest philosophers of all times, delighted in his newspaper and in humorous stories. One of the most profound Greek scholars in America, the head of a theological seminary, kept a scrapbook of all the "funny" things he saw, and read them to his friends with loud laughter.

Indeed, it may be said that the very qualities that make a man capable of shouldering great responsibilities lead him to find relief in those things that are seemingly trivial, but some times are fundamental.—New York Tribune.

TWO DRAFTED MEN

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, called to the defense of his country, ran away. He is now a fugitive from justice. No matter what he may do with the rest of his life, the brand of coward and deserter is upon him forever. Honest men will despise him wherever he goes. Loyal women will hold him in aversion. Try to conceal it with what braggadocio he will, shame is his portion.

Russell Gross, called by the draft when Bergdoll failed to answer, "forced into service ahead of his turn by the slacker Bergdoll," answered summons promptly, went overseas with his detachment, served honorably and died a hero's death in the Argonne. His citation for bravery records that "he displayed great heroism and self-sacrifice, and his example of unselfishness was an inspiration to the other men in his platoon." In his honor, Overbrook Post of the American Legion in Philadelphia has changed its name to that of the dead hero, and in planning a special memorial to him.

One died, with a hero's heart. Men unite to honor him. His mother, however sorrowful she may be, can hold her head high to have borne such a son. One lives, with a coward's soul. Men scoff at his name, and his mother must try for the rest of her life to explain away his shame and her own.—Tuscaloosa News.

A FRIEND

A friend is a person who's for you always, under any circumstances. He never investigates you. When charges are made against you, he does not ask proof—he asks the accuser to clear out.

He likes you just as you are. He does not want to change you.

Whatever kind of coat you are wearing suits him. Whatever you have on, a dress suit or a blue shirt with no collar, he thinks it's all right.

He is the one being with whom you may feel safe; with him you can utter your heart, its badness or its goodness. You don't have to be careful.

Anybody can stand by you when you are right; a friend sticks when you are wrong.

Like the shade of a great tree in noonday heat, is a friend.

Like the home port, with your country's flag flying, after a long journey is a friend.

It is he who keeps alive your faith in human nature and makes you believe the universe is good.

He is the antidote for despair, the elixir of hope, the tonic of depression, the medicine to cure suicide.

When you are vigorous and spirited you like to have your pleasures with him; when you are in trouble you want to tell him; when you are dying you want him near.

To him you give without reluctance and borrow from without embarrassment.

If you live seventy-five years and find one true friend you are to be numbered with the fortunate.—Ashland Progress.

JUNE IS STAR MONTH FOR WEDDINGS AND FOR BRIDES

June is the star month for weddings and at the bottom of their heart all women prefer it.

That's because ancient astrologers proclaimed June as the luckiest month. The tradition has been handed down through 100 generations.

If you attend a wedding this month, either as a guest or a fortunate participant, you stand in the presence of the oldest ceremony in existence, the custom which graduated man from barbarism and started civilization.

For men and women had marriage ceremonies before they had work, barter, weapons, wars, laws or any organized society.

In the lowest forms of life, marriage is a ceremony.

The queen bee, prepared for marriage, soars from her hive. Suitors, following as she mounts higher and higher, one by one grow exhausted and fall dead. Finally only one is left, by survival of the fittest, and becomes the queen's mate.

The marriage of a girl elephant is nearly always preceded by a battle between suitors, the one with most strength and best tucks winning.

Even spiders have their ceremony after the wedding—when ma eats pa.

The marriage of men and women has passed through three separate and very interesting forms, revealing man's progress.

First was "marriage by capture."

The cave man and his savage descendants carried off their brides by force. Prehistoric man was a good provider and the notion that he did his wooing with a club probably is wrong, says Dr. Elmer S. Riggs, noted paleontologist.

But there was rough stuff in ancient elopements. It came from the bride's irate father. To beat off father-in-law and other pursuers, the bridegroom carried with him a strong-armed pal.

That strong-armed pal is symbolized in "the best man" at modern weddings.

Old shoes and rice, thrown after a departing married couple, represent traditionally the wrath of the pursuers who lost out in the race.

The honeymoon originally was the period the groom kept his wife in hiding until her pa's wrath calmed down.

Next came "marriage by purchase," the groom appeasing his intended father-in-law, with gifts. Like the American Indian, who paid for his wife with buffaloes or ponies.

The third step in the evolution of mating was "marriage by consent."

It was not until about the year 900 that any bride got the right to refuse suitors or to select the one she loved.

The wedding ring symbolizes the binding fetter. It is universally used, African brides wearing it in their nose.

"Wedding" comes from "wed," old Anglo-Saxon word coined to denote a security or pledge of marriage.

Customs change. Traditions run their course, die out and the day may come when the best man, the wedding ring and the old shoes and rice will be extinct and forgotten.

But marriage goes on forever. It is one of the three greatest events of your life, and probably of first importance because usually you're conscious of the other two, birth and death.—Anniston Star.

When people vote as they pray there will be an end of war.

The slogan of those who are seeking to banish beer and Limberger cheese is: "We believe in decency."

Admiral Sims promised that he would write his explanation in less than two minutes here in betting that it took him the best part of two days to actually write it.

Long tongued people should reflect, that most of the lower animal's tongues are slender.

You will never lick the devil, by beginning on his boots.

The more conscientious people become, the less conscious they become of every body else's faults, and the more conscious of their own.

Any kind of a step, except straight forward along the "narrow," will finally land you in the gutter.

Foolish question No. 1000: Suppose father had skirts, would son have had any "cut down pants" worn as short trousers as mamma now wears from father's old ones?

The crop of peanuts should be increased by all means, but with the distinct understanding that there shall be no more peanut politicians.

Looking for some cool retreat."

All "het up" was James O. Rude,
Beads of sweat stood on his brow
As the talk which soon ensued
Presaged one more family row.

Suddenly an inspiration
Seized the wife, so calm—demure,
As she paused in meditation
Greater safety to secure.

Quickly did she think it over—
Summoned all her native wit—
Coaxed him through the field of clover
To a near-by gravel pit.

Prompted by a playful prank,
Impulsively she shoved him in—
Forgot he couldn't swim—he sank—
And that's the last she saw of him.

NEWS OF HARTSELLE

HARTSELLE, ALA., June 28.—Troop A. 1st Ala. Cavalry will leave on July 6th for a two weeks encampment at Anniston. Full equipment will be carried and every member will go. Mounts have been secured for the entire company.

The infestation of the boll weevil continues to be on the increase. It is no trouble to find them where the cotton is putting on forms, which it is doing right fast. There has been no systematic effort made as yet to check them. A unique method, which many are using is to take two large balls of line cotton and soak them in kerosene. One is attached to each end of the singletree and dangles therefrom while plowing. The balls swing against the plant and leave the odor of kerosene. Those who have used this device say it is efficient. Still others are using a large stand that is placed in a suitable place in the cotton field and has tin uprights that act as wings or knockers, and in the center of the wings is placed a lantern which burns all night, and just underneath the lantern is a receptacle filled with kerosene. It is said that both of these means is proving effective.

The name of Goodrich on a tire means just one thing—quality. And that quality is always the highest that can be produced.

Each tire is specially designed for the service it must deliver. Goodrich Fabrics, in the popular sizes, have established themselves as unusual values from the standpoint of real economy. Silvertown Cords in their class have always held first place in the esteem of motorists, not only because of their symmetrical perfection of finish, but furthermore, by reason of their long life, complete dependability and satisfactory performance.

Your dealer will supply you at these fair prices:

STRONG PROTEST TO BE FILED—ASKING THAT THE DECATUR COUNCIL REPEAL PAVING ORDINANCE 110.

Since the publication of my article of the 22 inst., the following petition has been signed by a majority of the resident citizens of Decatur, whose property will be affected by the proposed paving program.

Decatur, Alabama, June 24th 1921.

To the Mayor and Board of Aldermen, City of Decatur, Alabama.

Gentlemen:

We, the undersigned, holders of real estate in the City of Decatur, which property will be assessed for a part of the cost for paving provided the present contract proposed by you under Ordinance number 110 for the paving of several of our streets is granted, believing that the present price for such work is excessive, do hereby petition you to annul said ordinance No. 110, and we also ask that should you again decide to pass an ordinance providing for the paving of our streets that you give due publicity of such act or intention thereof to the property holders who are to be affected by such ordinance to express their wishes in the same.

It is also urged that we call your attention to the fact that we understand that you have four bids for the proposed paving contract and that some of you are reported to be favorable to one of the highest prices, and we are informed that the plans and specifications and class of work promised or proposed by each of the contractors is the same or very near the same, the only difference being in some name which we consider worth naught to us, and for which we do not propose to pay, or bear assessment for additional cost.

For your information we give you below and opposite our names the approximate number of lineal feet for which we would be assessed under the present proposed plan.

Trusting that you will realize that you are elected by the people and that you are expected to respect and guard our property rights and hoping that you will act wisely on this request and adhere to our wishes in this respect we submit to you this our request:

The City Council is expected to meet at 8:00 o'clock Wednesday night, the 29th inst., in an adjourn meeting of the 22nd inst., for further consideration of bids for paving the streets as provided for under Ordinance No. 110, at which time the above petition will be formally presented.

It appears that practically none of the property owners, to be affected by the proposed paving plan, had any idea that the proposed paving would cost near so much as it is now figured to cost, and for this reason they have not paid any attention to the progress made by the City Councilmen in this respect, until my letter of the 22nd inst., which was published in the Albany-Decatur Daily, and as a result of which the above mentioned petition has been signed to be presented to the City Councilmen. It is believed that a majority of the owners of property affected have already signed the petition, and there are several others who wish to sign, but have not as yet had an opportunity to do so for reason that the petition has been out for such a short time.

Now, this petition does not mean

JANE NOVAK STARS IN "THE GOLDEN TRAIL"

(Princess Today.)
Jane Novak, with her cameo-like beauty never appeared to better advantage than in "The Golden Trail" which comes to the Princess today. She first plays the role of the most popular girl in the college town, and later as the faro dealer of a gambling den in a notorious dance hall in the wind swept Alaska.

Cloth Upholstery.
Cloth upholstery may be best cleaned by beating curtains and backs lightly with a stick or carpet beater, after which the accumulated dust is whisked off with a brush. Grease or oil may be removed by an application of lukewarm water and mild soap, applied with a woolen cloth. There are a number of woolen cleaners which will work very well on cloth upholstery, but gasoline and benzine have a tendency to spread instead of to remove dirt.

Lifting Power of Air.
The lifting power of air is 0.105 pounds per one thousand cubic feet of air for each degree Fahrenheit above the temperature of the surrounding air. This weight is the total weight inclusive of the dead weight of the balloon.

Beginning of Modern Menageries.
The ancient Romans and Greeks kept in captivity leopards, lions, bears, elephants, giraffes, camels, rhinoceroses, antelopes, ostriches and crocodiles, held for slaughter at the gladiatorial shows. It is from the great feudal magnates and royal persons who frequently kept menageries of wild animals, aquaria and aviaries that the modern public gardens have their origin.

that the property owners of Decatur are opposed to good streets, but it means that the majority of the people who will have to pay for paving at such high prices are very much opposed to the present plan. It might be well to mention that a great many of our people who are favorable to the present plan, do not own property on any of the streets which are to be paved and some of the property owners on streets that are already paved admit that they would like to see other streets paved, so that their streets may be relieved of some of the traffic.

It might be that more of our property owners would favor street paving on a more reasonable basis, but they do not propose to have their resident streets paved with such expensive plans as is required for business streets.

What's the Matter With You?

Are you always smiling, no matter what comes up? Do you have a bright and optimistic viewpoint of all life? Are you popular socially—are you filled with confidence and enthusiasm? Does your mind respond quickly and efficiently to your needs—can you meet all emergencies with the firm conviction that you will win out regardless of obstacles? Are you strong physically and mentally, able to grasp the duties and pleasures of life that come to you from day to day? IF NOT—then you should begin to find out what the trouble is. Without doubt there are physical disorders that are holding you back—keeping you from being the man or woman that you should be.

YOUR LUNGS MAY BE WEAK

The lungs are the principal organs of the respiratory, or breathing, system. It is their duty to supply pure oxygen, or air, to the blood, which carries it to all the cells of the body; and also to exhale or throw off the impure carbon dioxide or waste from the cells. The CELLS of the lungs are constantly attacked by disease germs of all kinds; such as colds, catarrhs, influenza, consumption, etc.; and unless the CELLS are kept supplied with plenty of non-laxative and stimulant, they cannot throw off these disease germs.

MR. AND MRS. GAMBLE ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Neill were dinner hosts yesterday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Graham Gamble of Des Moines, Iowa, attractive visitors in the Twin Cities. A several course dinner was served, from a daintily appointed table which had for its center ornament, a handsome silver basket, filled with roses and ferns. Silver shelled candelabras completed the table decoration. Included in this hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Graham Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Atlee H. Hoff, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hildreth and Mr. C. J. Hildreth.

Mr. and Mrs. Graham Gamble, of Des Moines, Iowa, are visiting relatives and friends in the Twin Cities. Mrs. Gamble was reared here, and her many friends always look forward with much anticipated pleasure to her visits here. Mr. Gamble is a member of one of the strongest law firms in Iowa, and is also state attorney for the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific railroad.

MARJORIE CLINE'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Tuesday morning, June 28th, Mrs. J. L. Cline entertained with a birthday party, honoring her daughter Marjorie Howard, in celebration of her ninth anniversary.

Twenty-two little friends gathered at the home of the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cline, 715 Canal street, to make merry on this joyous occasion. The morning hours passed only too quickly and were pleasantly spent in out door games, music, etc., the contest, guessing the number of peas in bottle was entered into with much enthusiasm and resulted in Mary B. Hendrix and Frederick Hunt capturing the prizes. After several interesting hours spent in having a good time, Marjorie invited her guests into the dining room where an elaborately frosted cake, bearing nine tiny candles centered a prettily appointed table. Sweet peas and ferns were the flowers used to brighten the rooms of the home. Ice cream, cake and other goodies were served. Mrs. Cline was assisted in serving and entertaining by her sister, Misses Howard of Sheffield and Miss Marjorie Rainey.

Many useful and pretty gifts were received by this tiny miss, showing the high esteem in which she is held by her friends. Guests at the party were: Marjorie Fussell, Mary Battle Hendrix, Jane Thompson, Suzanne Jones, Eloise Humphrey, Jane and Harriet Irwin, Charlotte Bayoull, Jean Simmes, Dorothy Whaley, Virginia and Dorothy Brock, Mabel Pointer, Marie Ballas, Elkin Hines, Clara Barry Hunt, Leo Williams, Sonny Jones and David Henderson.

He Won the Bet

"I was skeptical of all medicine and doctors. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and assured me it had cured him of his stomach trouble. I didn't take any stock in it and he bet me $50 that it would be equally successful in my case. He won the bet." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—For sale by all druggists.—Adv.

Where They Tax Tidiness

In Turkey, due to the short-sighted policy of the government, it is not the custom to paint the exterior of the average house, for the tax is directly determined by the appearance of the building, a neatly painted house being taxed twice as much as a shabby dwelling, irrespective of the interior of either.

SNAKE ADOPTS MOUSE PUT IN HIS CAGE

NEW YORK, June 27.—A small white mouse placed in the same cage with a South American boa constrictor as food for the latter, has been adopted by the snake, according to Edwin A. Osborne, of No. 9418, One Hundred and Sixteenth street, Richmond Hill, owner of this unusual family.

The mouse, with the aid of some straw, has made a nest in the coils of the boa constrictor, and Mr. Osborne declares that the most amicable relations exist between the two.

Although the snake is non-poisonous, it has great constrictive power and recently crushed the life out of a rat placed in its cage in twenty-four seconds. The reptile refused to eat the rat, however, and Mr. Osborne a day or so later placed the small white mouse in the cage. The mouse scampered in and out among the coils of the snake without interference by the latter, and the two have since been the best of terms.

Mr. Osborne, who is a newspaper man and writer of animal stories who has made a hobby of collecting snakes, declared that this is the first instance on record, so far as he is aware, of a snake adopting a mouse.

MICROBE HAS MADE TROUBLE

"Miracle Bacillus" Really Quite Simple in Operation, but Has Not Been Understood.

One of the most curiously interesting of microbes is the "miracle bacillus"—known to science as B. prodigiosus. In its time it has been responsible for a whole lot of excitement.

In former days it used to happen once in a while that communion bread developed on its surface stains of what looked like blood. The superstitious took it to be really blood, attributing the phenomenon to miracle.

Today it is known that such stains, which sometimes appear on eggs or in milk, are produced by a color-making bacterium, incidentally to the process of feeding upon the substance. They merely indicate the presence of colonies of a species of bacillus that is now identified, "cultures" of which can easily be made.

When stains of the kind were found on food in former times, they were commonly attributed to witches or some other supernatural agency. The bacillus in question, feeding on decomposing material scattered over the ground, has been responsible for many tales of "bloody rains," which were regarded as portents of evil happenings to come.

People in earlier days were less addicted to the habit of bathing than is now customary, and sometimes crimson spots appeared on parts of their persons where perspiration and dirt had accumulated. These were very alarming, being suggestive of "bloody sweats," but what the sufferer really needed was a good scrub.—Philadelphia Ledger.

BIRDS ATTACK COMMON ENEMY

Feathered Creatures Gather in Flock to Drive Away and Punish Marauding Squirrel.

I was approaching casually a small copse, being attracted by the chatter of many birds. I got as near as I could without disturbing them and saw a squirrel being attacked by six missile thrushes and two jacksnaws. Every time it climbed a few feet two or more birds would swoop down and flap their wings at the terrified animal. This continued for about three minutes. As I got closer the commotion ceased and the exhausted squirrel scrambled up to a fork in the tree, where it lay motionless, apparently completely out of breath. A careful search revealed no thrushes' nests, but twenty yards away the jacksnaws had a nest in an old tree. I wonder if any of your readers could give an explanation of this attack on an inoffensive little animal.—G. Fox Rules, Osborne, Isle of Wight.

The little animal is not quite so inoffensive as supposed, and the birds know it. Squirrels whenever they have a chance will help themselves both to eggs and young birds, so that naturally when detected they get "mobbed."—Ed.—From the Field.

Dollar Sign in Brazil

The monetary unit in Brazil is the Portuguese real, though in theory only, for no such coin exists; hence in practice only the plural reis is used, and the unit is really the milreis, or one thousand reis. For some years the milreis had remained at the fixed value of 15 to the English pound, or about 3,250 reis to the American dollar. In larger transactions the milreis is the conto, one million reis. Gold is never seen in circulation in Brazil. From the milreis to the conto there are paper notes, silver coins from five hundred to two thousand reis and nickel pieces of four, two and one hundred, the last the token of popular parlance. The Brazilian places his dollar sign after the milreis and before the reis, so that 38250 means the equivalent of a whole dollar and the man who pays $500 for a newspaper or a small glass of beer can't feel that he has been unusually extravagant, at least if he has lived enough in Brazil to get the local point of view.

Hard work acts unfavorably on the body that is bilious or constipated, producing low spirits, weakness and loss of energy. Prickly Ash Bitters is the remedy that men use as a system cleanser and invigorator. It creates energy, good appetite and cheerfulness. Price $1.25 per bottle. Sold by all druggists.—Adv.

THE DEVIL'S TOWER

THIS peculiar freak of nature which has become one of Uncle Sam's National Monuments, is located near Sundance in northeastern Wyoming. It is a gigantic rock, 600 feet high, probably 60 feet in diameter at the top and a mile around at the base. Rising sheer from the level plain, it is visible in some directions for almost a hundred miles.

Undoubtedly this tower was useful to primitive races as well as to early pioneers as a landmark. It is thought that during the subsequent Indian wars members of the Sioux and Crow tribes directed their marches by the aid of fires and other signals flashed from this ever-visible tower.

As one approaches this monstrous rock, his amazement and awe increases, because it seems incredible that any force of Nature could have carved this solitary monument.

To climb to the top would seem an impossibility, yet it is said that a number of years ago a man and a woman accomplished this feat successfully.

Now that the war is behind us and Uncle Sam has more time to devote to home matters, it seems not unlikely that he may deem it advisable to send an expedition to the top of his new possession and cause a series of stairways to be constructed for the accommodation and convenience of venturesome tourists bent on getting acquainted with their own country.

PATTERSON URGES WEEKS TO PERMIT NEW POWER UNIT

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily.)

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 28.—Receipt of information that a lumber company owning several thousand acres of timber lands which would be inundated had protested against the construction of the new unit of the hydro-electric development of the Alabama Power Company at Duncan's Riffle on the Coosa river caused the public service commission to send an urgent telegram to John W. Weeks, secretary of war and chairman of the federal power commission, Monday requesting that a license for the construction of the dam be issued without delay. A. G. Patterson, chairman of the public service commission, who signed the message, wired a copy Senator Oscar W. Underwood with the request that he do everything in his power to obtain the certificate.

The information which has come to Montgomery is that the federal power commission has postponed to an uncertain date the consideration of the petition of the Alabama Power Company because of the lodgment of the complaint by the lumber company, which claims it will suffer a great loss by the damming of the river and the consequent flooding of its lands, or which it has timber rights. The public service commission contends that the dam will not flood the property for two years and that the lumber company will have time to protect itself before the water is impounded.

The Alabama Power Company has already been granted a certificate of convenience and necessity for the construction of the dam by the public service commission and has arranged the financial part of the work, according to President Patterson's telegram, and is ready to start work on the new unit. Mr. Patterson called attention to the fact that the present hydro-electric development in Alabama is not sufficient to meet the needs of the state and that the power company now is forced to accept contracts with the provision that if at any time the supply is not sufficient the power may be taken from the new circuits and that the power company shall not suffer financial loss as a result.

President Patterson told Chairman Weeks the failure of the federal government to grant the petition for the damming of the river will retard the progress of the state and that because of the great demand for further development the license should be issued to the company at the earliest possible moment.

NEWS OF MOULTON AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

MOULTON, June 28.—(Special)—The week just ended has been Clean Up Week in Moulton by request of the mayor, W. C. Bragg; the loose papers adorning the streets and sidewalks, the weeds about the fences, and the tin cans that had collected out of sight in the back yard were removed during the time and a tidier town welcomes the stranger as well as cheers the resident.

J. G. Greenhaw and family accompanied by some friends, was out in the mountains about six or seven miles south of Moulton Friday last to gather blackberries about the deserted farmsteads in the Forest Reservation. The trip resulted in considerable fright to more than one member of the party and fewer blackberries were brought back than might otherwise have been. Early in the day a rattlesnake was discovered of very large size. When it was found to bear thirteen rattles; a little while later another was found by a member of the party as he stood on an old rail fence gathering berries. His cries brought the man with the gun and the reptile was soon torn in two by the shot; although as large almost as the first he had only five or six rattles. The first one killed and the rattles of each was brought into town and exhibited for several hours to the snake-curious.

The county superintendent of education of Lawrence county has just received the list of the successful applicants for Teachers' License in the April examination. It is as follows: White—Second Grade: Robert R. Berryman Landersville, Herbert V. James, Trinity, Ellen J. McBride, Hillsboro, Mrs. Ruth M. Roberts Moulton, Third grade—Annie Lottie Barrett Kim, Ida Coffey Hillsboro and Nez Thompson Moulton. Five negroes were successful. Second Grade—Magie Lena Trust Kim, Virginia Baker Kim, Harriett Smith Moulton, Linale Stephenson Landersville, and Hatie Stovall Courtland.

This is by far the largest number of successful applicants for several years.

J. B. Gibbons, recently selected for the principalship of the Lawrence County High School was in Moulton over Sunday to get acquainted with the high school situation as far as it could be done on a brief visit. Mr. Gibbons is expected to be in Moulton by the middle of July accompanied by his family.

E. J. Landen, State Secretary of the B. Y. P. U., is in Moulton, this week conducting classes in the interest of the organization each evening; on Sunday evening at the regular service Mr. Landen gave a talk in behalf of the B. Y. P. U.

The members of the Methodist church recently surprised their pastor, W. L. Holdridge, by offering him a free trip to Lake Junaluska, North Carolina for the ministers meeting now in session at that place.

Mrs. M. J. Wolf, of El Paso, Tex., William Young, a last year high school student at Moulton is quite sick with an attack of typhoid at his Landersville home.

as, daughter of the recently deceased Judge J. P. Chitwood, is visiting relatives here for a few days.

Paul White, who has been for several weeks past in Georgia, is at his home this week.

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarettey aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

New Quick Way to Put on Firm Flesh

Thousands of weak, thin, pale and sickly people are now quickly putting on solid flesh and regaining rugged health and strength in an entirely new way.

This way is by taking vitamins into their systems. Vitamins are a mysterious living substance, found to be absolutely necessary for perfect daily health. But most of our foods are lacking in them—that is why so many of us become thin and run-down.

Yeast has been found to contain billions of vitamins and is bringing incredible results in putting good flesh and muscle on thin people. No need to eat yeast cakes—simply take Ironed Yeast tablets, containing iron and highly concentrated brewer's yeast, the most efficient form of yeast. Pleasant to take brings quick results.

Sold and highly recommended by Albany Drug Company. Special directions for children.—Adv.

New York Letter

by
Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, June 27.—Inexpensive joys still remain in life if one searches for them. The youngsters of the west side of the city are among those who have found them. Every day during the summer months they take a joy ride—for one cent per ride per passenger. Owners of several small wagons have arranged seats in them and for a penny apiece will fill the cart and haul the children around the block. These wagons will carry fifty at a time and they are usually filled. While the horse gallops through the streets, the children wait patiently at the corner, forming a line each night until they have received their evening joy ride.

Absentmindedness just takes hold of some people and refuses to make any exceptions of the sort of things they can forget. The other day, for instance, a gentle looking man pretty well upset a lot of people just because he left his box constrictor on the subway. He had left magazines and strawberries and a lot of other things and saw no reason for the shriek from those within hearing when he mentioned the deserted box. It happens that his wife charms snakes for a living and the generous husband had just paid $55 for this nice new one to take the place of her best snake which up and died. He discovered his loss as soon as he kissed his charming wife good evening and back he rushed. Fortunately the suitcase was waiting at a station unopened; and all would have been peaceful and well if he hadn't started to explain to the agent why he was so glad to find it!

For a long time I've been cherishing a suspicion that a great deal of the talk about "this awful young generation" exaggerated. I was right. And I figuratively, and almost literally rose in my place and cheered when various big women at Vassar College said so in our alumnae conference last week. Some one had mentioned the difficulties of a warden's work "these days", and dear Dr. Thelberg, head physician there for 25 years rose and said: "The girls of today are splendid, wonderful. They have been through deep waters. They have been under a severe strain during the war and many have suffered losses. No group could possibly have shown more control, more loyalty, more poise. We could not have asked for better discipline. The girls of this generation are capable, honorable people. I love them." Then she looked at the older alumnae and said "I love them even more than I do you." And the older alumnae applauded to the echo when she sat down. Miss Jean C. Palmer, head warden, supported Dr. Thelberg's stand. "I firmly believe in this generation," she said. "I believe they are finer than we were at their age. They are more straightforward, and more logical. Therefore they are harder to satisfy and for this very reason they need the advice of wardens." Miss Ballantyne, head of the gymnasium, added to the testimony. Some one asked her if the girls of today were as strong as the girls of yesterday. "They are stronger," she said, "stronger physically and stronger morally, I fully believe. Not better, probably, but stronger." It certainly was refreshing. Although, as I've said, I've suspected it all the time.

"See that picture on the outside of my paintbox," said Gertrude, the Sheridan Square art student. "That's my introduction to any other student who's trying to become famous like Rosa Bonheur. There is no special picture painted on the box. But just something that will let your fellow toilers in oils know that you also are trying for the artistic heights. We meet a good many students this way and form friendships that we would miss entirely if we didn't have a signal, as it were."

BATTLERS WINDING UP TRAINING FOR CHAMPIONSHIP GO

By JAMES J. CORBETT.
(Former world's heavyweight champion. Written expressly for the International News Service. Copyright, 1921 by I. N. S.)

NEW YORK, June 28.—This is a "wind-up" week at Manhasset and at Atlantic City.

Champion Jack Dempsey and Challenger Georges Carpentier have but four days more to prepare for the big fight at Jersey City July 2. They are practically through training now. I am told that neither will do more than light work—just enough to keep on edge—and Thursday will be last day on which either will don a glove. Both the champion and his challenger are in good condition.

I have seen both men in action recently. Dempsey looks fine. His stomach looks good too. I think he has trained seriously. I will know more about that—every one will—after a round or two.

Carpentier is in fine shape and his morale is perfect—better, I believe, than that of the champion. I'd bet my life on Georges' condition and I think that he will enter the ring highly confident. In fact, the closer the day of the fight approaches the lighter hearted Carpentier seems.

To me this is a good sign. I've read some talk about Dempsey's wind not being the best. If this is true I have failed to notice it.

Working out under the hot sun in Atlantic City is no easy thing for a fellow when he works fast as Dempsey has been doing. Under such conditions he cannot get enough air breathing through his nose and he does quite a bit of breathing through his mouth. I used to do the same. I think nearly every fighter does.

At Airport the fight is over now. Manager Jack Kearns, Dempsey, Trainer Teddy Hayes—everyone in fact—has settled that question in his mind. The Airport camp is rather cock-sure. This is not the best thing in the world, even though the vast majority of critics have also settled on Dempsey as the winner. It means that the champion and his handlers may be over-confident and I'll tell the world that I know from experience what over-confidence sometimes does to a fellow.

Carpentier's camp is just the other way around. Everyone from Georges down is willing and eager to get all the advice they can. They are not cock-sure but they are not doing any unnecessary worrying either. You can bet your last red that Georges and his handlers have sized up the possibilities of this fight from every possible angle. Georges is an intelligent student of the game and he figures that his chances of winning are a whole lot better than good. Otherwise he would not maintain such a cheerful state of mind.

Mouth Curves.

Study the sweep of a bow held in place by a cord. It adheres to the rule. "Curves are the lines of beauty." The curve, wherever found on the human body, is soft and tender. It seems to be the blending of compass curves. So it is with the mouth. I once heard the mouth of a cruel, gossip woman described as being "like a slit in a stone wall." I thought the phrase a very apt one.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.
